Great Rock Island Route

TO THE EAST.

Best Dining Car Service in the World. The Rock Island is foremost in adopting any advantage calculated to improve speed and give that luxury, safety and comfort that popular patronage demands. Its equipment is thoroughly complete with vestibuled trains, magnificent dining cars, sleepers and chair coaches, all the most elegant, and of recently improved patterns.

Fuithful and capable management and polite, honest service from employes are important items. They are a double duty-to the company and to travelers-and it is sometimes a task difficult of accomplishment. Passengers on this line will find little cause for complaint on that ground.

REMEMBER The Great Rock Island Route runs all regular trains to Englewood suburban station, close to World's Fair grounds, and you can save time and crouble by getting off at that point and avoid the crowd in the city.

For full particulars as to tickets, maps, rates, apply to any coupon ticket office in the United States, Canada or Mexico, or address:

FULL OF RATTLERS. Thrilling Experience of a Geologist la

ar Old Tunnel. Professor William Watts, assistant in the field for the state mining bureau recently had an experience in Colusa county that made his hair stand on end, says the San Francisco Exam-

"I went to Colusa county to examine a quicksilver mine in company with another gentleman," he said, "and after a ride of a few miles into the mountains we reached our destination. The mine had been partially developed by a tunnel run in about 15) feet, but work had been abandoned many months before. We had proceeded but a few feet into the inky darkness of the tunnel when I, being in the lead, struck a match to light a candle. No sooner had the light flared up than I heard the wavning of a rattlesnake and saw a big fellow coiled up at my feet ready to strike, while further on I saw numerous other squirming reptiles. The match dropped from my hand as I jumped back several feet.

* Bz-z-t! Bz-z-t! "Another snake sprung his rattle. I had landed directly upon the second snake and felt it wriggling under my

"Bz-z-t, bz-z-t! rattled another from the tunnel side just by my face, and the whole place seemed alive with the horrible things. The din created by their incessant angry rattling was frightful. We got out all right, but were badly seared. Later a party was formed to exterminate the big nest of snakes, and large numbers of them were killed. The unused tunnel was just the place for them to spend the winter months comfortably." Professor Watts kills rattlesnakes with his long-handled geological hammer, but says that when he strikes a tunnel full of them nothing short of a Gatling gun is of any use whatever.

ABOUT CHEAP GUNS.

They Are as Unreliable as a Cheap and Nasty Watch.

Things made to look like guns are sold for as low a figure as twenty-five dollars, but I want no such "gaspipes at my shoulder, says a writer in Outing. As the cheap watch keeps time in a fashion, so does the cheap gun perform. It will kill birds fairly well for a time if held straight, but it will not stand continuous use, and it may contain a flaw or flaws in the barrels, which the owners of it may not detect until too late. When the cheap watch wears out and breaks no great harm can result; but when a shamdam gun concludes to spread itself it-well, that is another

If I had a fair young son, full of promise and with a few owness of gray matter scattered through his intellect-if I took pride in the boy and dreamed of future presidential candidature or high position in church or state for him-just about the last place on the Lord's earth where I'd want to see him stand would be, before, behind or alongside of one of those infernal machines known as a cheap gun. He might load and fire it many times with no other results than a crack, a smoke Teeth extracted without pain by the new and perhaps a dead bird or animal; No 1716 Second avenue, over Krell & Math's, and he might also only fire a few times, but once too often, and go single sculling across the river Styx, in consequence of his supposed-to-besane parent's criminal folly in giving him a weapon to use which was liable to blow a head or an arm or a few sections of hands off him at a most unexpected and unfavorable time.

Ahead on Rhinoceros.

There is a little tot in the west end, only 21 years old, who is pos-sessed of an ambition to pronounce big words correctly and is very proud of her accomplishments in that line. She has a little cousin, some months older, who cannot speak so plainly, so this increases her pride. But her father often tells her, when she doesn't obey him promptly, that he has another little girl down-town who minds him always and is never disobedient. This mythical little girl has grown to be a reality with her and she imagines one really does exist who has alienated her father's

The other day, on being reprimanded for a slight misdemeanor, her father said:

"My other little girl down-town wouldn't do that; she is a good little girl."

The child sat very still for several minutes, seemingly very much distressed over the comparison. Then she spoke up triumphantly:

"But your other little girl downtown can't say 'rhinoceros,' I bet." -St. Louis Republic.

Got the Mitten Fvery in  $\varepsilon.$ "I can marry any girl I please," was his excla-mation, but unfortunately then he did not please any; and there was a plain reason for it. Ee had contracted catarrh of the worst form, and, although a wealthy, educated, attractive person every other way, he was positively repulsive to bis lady friends, a number of whom rejected his offers of marriage. A friend advised him to use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. He took his advice, and now is the most popular bean in town, and he really can "marry any girl he bleases" to ask. It made his breath pure and sweet, he has no headache, no offensive discharges from the bose, in abort, is in perfect health, and all from using a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It has done for me what other so-called cures have failed to do-cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical. -Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford,

After trying many remedies for catarrh during the past 12 years, I tried Ely's Cream Balm with complete success. It is over one year since I stopped using it, and have had no return of catarrh. I recommend it to all my friends .- Milton

Journeys of Explorers in That Little-

Known Country. Captain Bower, the Thibetan explorer, has arrived in London with a mass of valuable information concerning that little-known country, which he has collected primarily for the benefit of the Indian government. In the course of fifteen months of travel across the wildest part of the country he learned many curious and interesting facts about the inhabitants. His journey was made during 1891 and 1892, and his route was almost due west to east, starting from Leh or Lodak and crossing the track of some other explorers who had traversed the country from north to south. He crossed, among others, the route followed by M. Bonvalot, the French explorer, and his companion. Prince Henry of Crleans, but, like all other travelers in recent times, he found it impossible to enter Lhassa His nearest point was about 150 miles from the holy city. The priests are practically supreme in the country, but nowhere did he meet with hostile treatment from the natives. The Sikkim war has had a wholesome effect, and the Englishman traveling in Thibet is now in no danger. Some idea of the difficulties and hardships of the journey may be gathered from the fact that much of the road was from fifteen to eighteen thousand feet above the level of the sea, and that for weeks together he and his companions did not meet a single human being.

Prop unced Hopeless. Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: ·Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs. Cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at Hartz & Bahnsen's drug store, regular size, 50c and $1.
